1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1.1 INTRODUCTION

Founded in 1949 by the great Sripat Singh Dugar - the last legendary personality perhaps of the clan of the Jain Sitambar blue blood of Jiaganj, Murshidabad, Sripat Singh College, an institution of inestimable pride has emerged as one of the premier institutions of West Bengal. The dream of foundation stone of the noble institute was emphatically grounded with a deed (of gift) as offering bestowed by Dugarji. The notable edifice of the institute was momentarily amplified with the gracious presence of Dr. D. M. Sen, the then Education Secretary, Government of West Bengal on 27th December, 1959 and Dr. K.L. Srimali, the then Union Minister of Education on 3rd August, 1961. On 11 June, the College was affiliated to the University of Calcutta and, subsequently, on the auspicious morning of August 1, 1949, it took its first step as a co-educational Intermediate college. Afterwards, the college got affiliated to the University of Kalyani in April, 1999. However, the college is now in the festive mood of Platinum Jubilee Year in its glorious journey by imparting education with unremitting ethical values to the learners and helping them to get much-cherished self-esteem. In course of its exploration, the institute has assimilated the new values of education, the values as enshrined in the NEP, 2020 and all else like these and made a bridge between the past and present so that the learners may grapple with the challenges of the rapidly changing global society. - The college is yet to have a spacious auditorium to accommodate a large number of students during numerous cultural programs organized by the college.
- Vacant post of permanent non-teaching staff members creates problems in the smooth functioning of the office and administration.
- Being an affiliated college, the institution lacks academic autonomy in designing and modifying the syllabi.

- The full potential of Alumni is yet to be utilized for the upgradation and progress of the overall upliftment of the institution.
- Pursuing the government to sanction teaching and non-teaching posts as per rule.
- At the higher education level teaching and research go hand in hand. It is a challenge to mobilize the grants and funding for pursuing research projects, particularly in the wake of limited funds available from UGC for research. The distance of the college from the central research hubs sometimes makes it difficult for the creation of research ambiance in this region and is definitely a challenge to confess and confront.

- Little scope for introducing innovative curriculum due to the schedule designed by affiliating university.
- Financial crunch is also one of the challenges the college faces.

1. Multidisciplinary/interdisciplinary:	Sripat Singh college has started focusing on holistic and multidisciplinary education which will develop all capacities of human beings- intellectual, aesthetic, social, physical, emotional and moral in an integrated manner. This type of multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary programmes shall be in the long term the approach of all undergraduate programmes, including those in basic, professional and vocational discipline. The Institution in its preparedness for NEP plans to focus more on departments like Languages, Literature, and Music, Philosophy, Indology, Art, Cultural and social activities, Mathematics, Statistics, Pure and Applied Science, ICT based learning, Sociology, Sports, Translation and Interpretation and such subjects needed for a multidisciplinary, stimulating to holistic grooming of a student. Through open and distance learning (ODL) mode if not offered in semesters. Finally students will be given opportunities for internship with local industry, business, crafts person etc., so that they may actively engage with the practical side of their learning and finally improve their employability.
2. Academic bank of credits (ABC):	According to academic bank of credit (ABC) as part of the National Education Policy, students will be given multiple entries and exit options, which will allow students enrolled in undergraduate (UG) and Post graduate (PG) programme to exit course and enter within stipulated period. This flexibility in academic programmes will enable students to seek employment after any level of award and help to upgrade qualification and also curtail a dropout rate. As ABC regulation will encourage a blended learning mode in which students will be allowed to earn credits from various HEIS registered under their scheme through SWAYAM. Our institution has already started encouraging faculties as well as students to enrol under National schemes like MOOCS, SWAYAM, NPTEL, V-Lab.
3. Skill development:	The NEP envisioned the holistic development of youth with emphasis on not only an upsurge in Gross Enrolment Ratio but also on skill development as the determining factors to realize the objectives of Atmanirbhar Bharat. Our College along with IQAC

	has already processed with this mission and arranged for special Knowledge and soft skills for students like spot reading grooming for language skill development, “Speech Completion” debate, “Book Review”, to develop communicative skill. It takes a combination of all these types of skills to get a job, keep a job, and skilled in a job. Response:

Expenses towards salary of teaching Employees and some non-teaching employers are borne by the State Government through the pay Packet system. These claims are audited by the WB Audit and Accounts Service before release of Claims.

The College bears the expenses towards salaries, ex-gratia and bonus of contractual employees from own funds. As income from admission can not be guaranteed, the GB has authorized the Principal to maintain Term deposit interests from which may be utilized in meeting standing expenditures.

All financial transactions are audited. Statutory audit is conducted by the WBHED intermittently and the Principal under authority of the GB, appoints a Internal auditor for conducting an annual audit each financial year. This report, after ratification in the GB is duly conveyed to the WBHED.

The college routinely conducts the required audit process, and the auditors' observations are followed.

The college's internal auditing system keeps an eye on all of its financial activities.

The college's principal and bursar uphold stringent budgetary controls.

Funds from students' fees is collected in a designated bank account.

Through austerity measures, the college has made every effort to mobilize internal resources. The organization avoids superfluous spending and abstains from luxury. The excess that arises from this budgetary discipline is put toward fixed deposits and other like schemes.

College authorities through regular meetings of finance and purchased subcommittees plan, design, and authorize the distribution of funds for different academic and administrative activities.

The sources of funds are:

- Tuition/Academic fee which is collected from students
- Grants for organizing various international, national, and state level seminars, conferences, and workshops
- Financial assistance received for NSS and NCC from the Central Government through University of Kalyani
- Rent realized from college premises let to busyness organizations and from staff occupying college accommodations.

Criterion 7 - Institutional Values and Best Practices

7.1 Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1

Institution has initiated the Gender Audit and measures for the promotion of gender equity during the last five years.

Describe the gender equity & sensitization in curricular and co-curricular activities, facilities for women on campus etc., within 500 words

Response:

Gender Audit Report:

To build a sustainable, and reformative society, we must strive for equity and equality. This empowerment endows the shortfall of societal augmentation before the century in our country as well as in our state. In the recent past, have had several strategies to develop the authority of women and girls at every corner of our society to promote the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Gender Equity Interpretation: It is fair treatment for men and women following their respective needs. It does not make men and women identical; rather it focuses on equal rights, benefits, and opportunities. We find that gender equity promotes equality between all sexes and races.

Does equity matter? - It never undermines the social fabric or human potential. If we ignore half of the population, then we must ignore women's rights in any form of society. We must then ensure political, economic, and social endeavors for all and sundry.

Global Goals for Gender Equity: The United Nations Global goal has 5 crucial objectives for women's and girls' empowerment.

Key targets are listed below:

1. Ending discrimination against women and girls.
2. Elimination of violence and exploitation.
3. Eradicating harmful practices like child marriage and female genital mutilation.
4. Recognizing unpaid care work and promoting shared domestic responsibility.
5. Ensuring women's participation in leadership and decision-making.
6. Providing universal access to reproductive health and rights.
7. Technology-enabled economic empowerment.
8. Adopting policies and legislation for gender equality.

Long-Term Objectives: - Organizations can set short-, medium-, and long-term gender equality objectives. Long-term goals require the successful implementation of shorter-term actions over three to five years.

Challenges and Progress: - The challenges are: -

1. Child marriage may take several years to end.
2. Closing legal gaps is also a big issue.
3. Achieving equal representation in leadership may take decades.
4. Equal representation in national parliaments may take proper will from social reformers.

Enhancing female representation:

1. Striving to increase the participation of female staff in decision-making bodies.
2. Encouraging their active involvement in shaping policies and strategies.

Diverse Co-Curricular Activities:

The institution organizes a variety of co-curricular activities that cater to both male and female students and staff. This promotes inclusivity and provides equal opportunities for personal growth.

Encouraging sports participation:

1. Motivating female students to engage in sports activities of their choice.
2. Creating an environment where they feel encouraged and supported to participate in sports and physical fitness programs.

Raising awareness about legal rights:

The institution conducts awareness programs specifically focused on educating women about their legal rights mostly covering topics such as gender equality, protection against discrimination, and access to justice.

Self-Employment Training:

Self-employment training programs across various subjects have been introduced. Moreover, female students have been equipped with practical skills and knowledge to pursue entrepreneurial ventures.

Marketability of Student Products:

The institution strives to enhance the marketability of products prepared by students. Female students are encouraged to showcase their talents and creativity, ensuring their work receives due recognition. The location of Sripat Singh College in Murshidabad, West Bengal, influences its institutional distinctiveness. The local culture, historical heritage, and natural surroundings provide unique opportunities for experiential learning, community engagement, and cultural enrichment. The expertise and research interests of the faculty members contribute significantly to its distinctiveness. Faculty members engage in research projects, publish scholarly works, and have expertise in specific areas that enrich the academic environment and student learning experience. This includes aspects such as academic excellence, social responsibility, inclusivity, and a commitment to serving the local community. The composition of the student body, including factors such as diversity, demographics, and extracurricular interests, shapes the unique culture and character of the college. The college has taken initiatives to uplift women students through various programs throughout the year and one such drive was made functional in the form of a self-defense course for female students. This drive aimed at making female students aware of body positivity and individual strength in moments of danger or crisis. This will build confidence and self-importance among students who hail from various neighboring villages. Our women teachers contribute equally towards various academic, cultural as well as administrative duties. They hold positions as convenors in various college committees or Teachers' Council secretary and excellently perform their duties without fail. 7.2 Best Practices

7.2.1

Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual

Response:

The institute is focused on recognizing and motivating its staff and students. Reward systems can enhance performance and foster a positive work environment. While the specific rewards are not mentioned in the provided text, let's explore some general best practices related to recognizing and motivating employees and students:

1. Implementation of formal and informal recognition programs, e.g., considering bonuses, salary increases, or additional paid time off based on individual or team achievements, is acknowledged. These can include awards, certificates, and public appreciation during meetings or events.
2. Encouraging continuous learning and growth by providing opportunities for skill development, workshops, and certifications. Motivation and encouragement build a healthy work environment and inspire faculty and students.
3. Flexibility in work hours or remote work options improves work-life balance and boosts morale.
4. Creating a positive work culture by encouraging colleagues to recognize each other's efforts. Peer-to-peer recognition is powerful enough to boost positive challenges.
5. Regular feedback from different stakeholders enables a scope for constructive criticism, which helps identify problems and understand areas to improve for better performance.
6. Celebrating achievements: completing a project, hitting a target, or achieving academic excellence; recognizing and celebrating these milestones helps enhance work ethics.

There are many best practices of the college leading to quality sustenance and enhancement. Two of them are listed

1. Celebration of important days in the college like International Literacy Day, Rabindra Jayanti, Netaji Jayanti, Najrul Jayanti; etc.
2. Outreach programs conducted at individual, departmental, and college levels for empowering women.

BEST PRACTICE-1

1. Celebration of important National and International days, as mentioned below

The Context:Creating Global Diversity with Local to Global Initiatives

We aim to foster global diversity by bridging local cultures with global perspectives. This involves promoting local traditions, languages, and practices on an international stage. By encouraging collaboration among communities worldwide, we can enrich our understanding of different cultures and create a more inclusive global society.

Enhance Understanding of Eminent Philanthropists and Social Reformers

It is essential to create greater awareness and appreciation of the contributions made by notable philanthropists and social reformers to society. By documenting their milestones and impact, we can inspire current and future generations. Educational programs, workshops, and exhibitions can highlight their legacies and encourage active participation in social change.

Celebrating our Heritage through this Platform

Our heritage is a vital part of our identity, and it deserves to be celebrated. Utilizing this platform, we can showcase cultural practices, historical narratives, and traditional arts. By promoting heritage events and activities, we can foster pride in our roots and help build a deeper connection among community members.

Cultural Festivals: Education on Moral and Socio-Economic Values

Cultural festivals serve as a valuable medium for imparting moral and socio-economic values to students and audiences alike. These events offer opportunities to learn about diversity, empathy, and social responsibility through interactive experiences. By participating in these festivals, individuals can develop a broader understanding of the world and its complexities, fostering a sense of community and global citizenship.

Challenges:

Balancing cultural diversity and academic relevance, coordinating events, ensuring inclusivity, and honoring historical figures with limited resources and varying student participation.

The Practice:

The practice of celebrating important days in college involves organizing events to commemorate occasions, e.g., Rabindra Jayanti, Netaji Jayanti, Najrul Jayanti, and many more. It includes planning cultural programs, discussions, and activities that highlight the significance of these events, fostering awareness and respect for diverse cultural and historical perspectives among students and faculty. These celebrations often aim to promote unity, understanding, and appreciation for the contributions of notable figures and significant global themes.

Uniqueness:Cross-Cultural Understanding as Best Practice

This event serves as a vital platform for cross-cultural understanding. It encourages dialogue and interaction among diverse groups, allowing participants to learn from one another. By sharing traditions, stories, and experiences, we cultivate a more inclusive society where different perspectives are valued and appreciated.

Moral Support: Our Heritage

Moral support is a cornerstone of our heritage, and this event exemplifies our commitment to societal values. Through various activities, we highlight the importance of empathy, kindness, and social responsibility. By participating in these celebrations, we reaffirm our dedication to these principles and inspire others to engage in positive societal and moral endeavors.

BEST PRACTICE-2

1. Outreach programs conducted at individual, departmental, and college levels for empowering women.

The Context:

Advocating for women's issues and their participation in strategic plans fosters an inclusive environment where gender sensitization thrives. This empowerment cultivates physical and emotional resilience among girls, enhancing their confidence and agency. Increased awareness of civic rights equips them to navigate societal challenges with informed decision-making. Ultimately, these efforts lead to a more equitable and empowered female community, ready to contribute effectively in various spheres of life. By nurturing these outcomes, institutions not only support individual growth but also contribute positively to societal progress, promoting a culture where gender equality and respect for rights are fundamental values.

Challenges:

Ensuring the sustainability of efforts beyond initial enthusiasm requires continuous commitment from stakeholders, including faculty, administration, and the broader community. Negotiating legal and policy frameworks that support gender equality while navigating bureaucratic processes and institutional inertia can present obstacles to creating awareness about civic rights among girls.

The Practice:

Self-Defence Workshop: Organizing practical sessions where students learn physical techniques and strategies to protect themselves from potential threats, empowering them with skills to enhance personal safety and confidence.

Seminar on "Health & Hygiene Among Girls": Conducting informative sessions focusing on the importance of health and hygiene, particularly tailored to address vulnerabilities that can be exploited in trafficking situations. Discussions include recognizing signs of exploitation and promoting self-care practices.

Therapy Workshop: Providing workshops aimed at promoting mental and emotional well-being among students, creating a supportive environment where they can discuss and process sensitive issues related to trafficking, trauma, and resilience.

Uniqueness:

Programs targeting women's empowerment at individual, departmental, and college levels uniquely integrate support systems, from mentorship initiatives to career development workshops. They foster inclusivity by addressing diverse needs and aspirations of women ensuring holistic growth and leadership opportunities in academic and professional spheres.
