Program name: Observation of "Anti-Tobacco Day"

NSS Unit with the collaboration of District Tobacco Control Cell (Murshidabad) organized a seminar on the side-effects of tobacco on youth generation. On that occasion, CMOH of Murshidabad District was our chief guest. He delivered a lecture on the topic and explained the side-effects of tobacco. Prof. Asis Kumar Sen (TIC) of Sripat Singh College was present there. All the teaching and non-teaching staff were there. Almost 60 volunteers participated in the programme. The main objective of this program was to make awareness among the youth especially college goer students who generally get addicted during their student life. A team of doctors from Murshidabad Medical College was present at the programme. They shared their experience met with the patients badly suffering from tobacco related disseses.

Program name: Swachh Bharat Abhiyan

Description: Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, launched by the Government of India in 2014, is a nation-wide cleanliness campaign aimed at achieving the vision of a Clean India. The National Cadet Corps (NCC), as a premier youth organization, actively participates in this initiative to promote cleanliness, sanitation, and hygiene across the country.

Achievements:

- 1) To raise awareness about the importance of cleanliness and sanitation in building a healthy and sustainable environment.
- 2) To mobilize NCC cadets for active participation in cleanliness drives and sanitation initiatives.

The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan celebration organized by the National Cadet Corps demonstrated the organization's commitment to the principles of cleanliness, sanitation, and public health. Through flag hoisting, cleanliness drives, and awareness campaigns, NCC cadets reaffirmed their dedication to building a clean and sustainable environment for present and future generations.

Program name: Certificate Course on "Numerical Skill"

Report on the Add-On Course on Numerical Skills

Course Overview

The add-on course on Numerical Skills was designed to improve participants' proficiency in essential numerical and mathematical concepts, crucial for academic success and practical applications in various fields. The course, which featured a comprehensive curriculum, covered a wide range of topics including basic arithmetic, algebra, geometry, statistics, and problem-solving techniques. This rigorous program aimed to equip participants with the skills needed to tackle numerical challenges confidently and efficiently.

Course Duration

The course spanned a total of 60 hours, structured over several months to allow participants adequate time to absorb and practice the material. The course was conducted from August 28, 2022, to February 25, 2023. This extended duration was chosen to provide flexibility, enabling participants to balance the course with other responsibilities and to facilitate deeper understanding through consistent engagement and practice.

Key Dates

- Start Date: August 28, 2022
- End Date: February 25, 2023

Participation Statistics

- Total Registrations: 115
- Training Started: 68
- Passed: 21

The course attracted significant interest, with 115 individuals registering. This high registration number highlighted the recognized importance of numerical skills in both professional and academic contexts. Out of those who registered, 68 participants actively commenced the training, indicating a solid initial commitment. The course was challenging, as evidenced by the fact that only 21 participants successfully completed the training and met all the requirements to pass.

Certification

Participants who successfully completed the course were awarded a certificate of completion. This certification served as formal recognition of their dedication and the numerical skills they acquired. For these participants, the certification is a valuable credential that can enhance their academic profiles and professional prospects. The skills gained from this course can significantly improve their analytical abilities and problem-solving capabilities, which are essential in various disciplines and careers.

Conclusion

The add-on course on Numerical Skills was a significant initiative aimed at enhancing individuals' mathematical proficiency. Despite the relatively low completion rate, the course had a substantial impact on those who finished it, equipping them with critical skills that are highly applicable in numerous fields. The course's structure and content were designed to provide a solid foundation in numerical skills, helping participants to build confidence and competence in mathematics.

To improve future iterations of the course, it would be beneficial to incorporate additional support mechanisms such as tutoring sessions, study groups, and progress tracking. These enhancements could help participants stay motivated and on track, potentially increasing the retention and completion rates. By continuously refining the course based on participant feedback and learning outcomes, the program can ensure that even more individuals benefit from the valuable skills it imparts.

ACADEMIC SESSION: 2021-22

Program name: Certificate Course on Communication skill

Report on the Add-On Course on Communication Skills

Course Overview
The add-on course on Communication Skills was jointly organized by the Department of English and the Career Development Counselling & Placement Cell. This course was designed to enhance participants' abilities in effective communication, which is crucial for both professional and personal development. The comprehensive curriculum covered various aspects of communication, including verbal and non-verbal communication, active listening, public speaking, and interpersonal skills. These components were selected to ensure that participants could effectively convey their ideas, understand others, and engage in meaningful dialogues in various settings.

Course Duration
The course spanned a total of 60 hours, allowing participants ample time to grasp the concepts and practice their skills. It was structured to be completed over several months, from June 28, 2022, to January 25, 2023, providing flexibility for participants to manage their schedules alongside their other commitments. This extended period was aimed at maximizing retention and mastery of communication skills through continuous learning and practice.

Key Dates
Start Date: June 28, 2022
End Date: January 25, 2023

Participation Statistics
- Total Registrations: 179
- Training Started: 89
- Passed: 12

The course garnered a high level of interest, reflected by the 179 registrations. This interest underscores the recognition of communication skills as a vital area for personal and professional growth. Out of the total registrations, 89 participants actively started the training, indicating a strong initial commitment. However, the demanding nature of the course might have contributed to the attrition rate, with only 12 participants successfully meeting all the requirements and passing.

Certification
Participants who completed the course successfully were awarded a certificate of completion. This certification serves as a testament to their dedication and the communication skills they acquired during the course. For these participants, the certification is not just a formal recognition but also a valuable asset that can enhance their professional profiles and career prospects. The skills learned can significantly improve their effectiveness in various roles, particularly those involving teamwork, leadership, and customer interaction.

Conclusion

The add-on course on Communication Skills, jointly organized by the Department of English and the Career Development Counselling & Placement Cell, was a significant initiative aimed at empowering individuals with essential communication skills. Despite a relatively low completion rate, the impact on those who completed the course was substantial. They now possess valuable tools to excel in different aspects of their lives, both personally and professionally. To improve future iterations of the course, it would be beneficial to consider additional support mechanisms, such as mentorship programs, peer study groups, or incremental milestones, to help participants stay motivated and complete the course. These enhancements could potentially increase retention and completion rates, ensuring that more participants benefit from the valuable skills taught in the course.

One Day International Webinar on Revisiting Sustainable Strategies for a Self-Reliant Rural India Post-COVID-19 Pandemic

Organized by
Department of Geography, Sripat Singh College, Jiaganj, West Bengal
In collaboration with IGAC
Inaugural Address by Dr. Bhomaszaman Ahmed (Principal)

COVID-19 Pandemic and Self-reliance

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed the world in many ways. Of the several implications on humanity, the issues of health, the spending down of the economy and social welfare have taken the worst hit. The severe impact of the pandemic is visible across all the sectors of the economy, but its effect on marginalized sections, women and children has been immense in India. Socio-economic stress caused by lockdown has multiple impacts. Travel restrictions, loss of livelihoods, limited healthcare facilities and interrupted regular transmission in hospitals have led to anxiety and fear among the population. Moreover, social distancing with friends and family, the closure of places of entertainment and leisure, closure of educational institutions have all led to increased stress and confusion among the communities. The movement of migrant workers to their hometowns due to uncertainty in loss of livelihoods is one of the crucial and highlighted issues in this pandemic where millions have been rendered unemployed and stranded without money, food and shelter, encroaching the country's highways to return to their villages and so encountering with accidents and deaths on their way. Unemployment has rendered this important segment of our economy in dire straits. For all countries bearing the impact of COVID-19 the worst affected is social health and has left the economy gaping. Long-term planning and collective efforts of individuals, communities, governments, national and international organizations to not only fight this invisible deadly virus is crucial but also to build up resilience. Policy responses to the pandemic is deal with health and the contracted economy is the need of the hour. The need for self-reliance comprising from our rural sectors to supplement the economy will help to combat the setbacks in the country's health, education, and employment. Reducing the psychological and social distress among people and promoting strategies to deal with the situation are also required. Well formulated policy to contain the pandemic and encourage self-reliance to boost economies is needed. Rural sector are the backbone of any economy being located in the primary segment of economic sectors.
