Report on one-day Orientation program on Financial Literacy

Sripat Singh College recently hosted a pivotal one-day orientation program focused on financial literacy. Organized by CINI in collaboration with the NSS, NCC, and CDCPC units, the event took place in the Rabindra Sabhakaksha and was exclusively for female students. This program was part of the college's 75th anniversary celebrations and underscored its commitment to empowering its students.

Held on December 13, 2023, and starting at 2:00 PM, the orientation aimed to provide essential financial management skills. Participants gained insights into budgeting, saving, investing, and financial planning. The goal was to equip students with practical knowledge to help them manage their finances effectively and build a foundation for future financial independence.

The collaboration between CINI, NSS, NCC, and CDCPC reflected a unified effort to enhance the students' educational experience. Each organization contributed its expertise to ensure the program's effectiveness, demonstrating a collective commitment to promoting prosperity and progress through financial education. This partnership highlighted the importance of providing students with the tools they needed for successful financial management.

In summary, the financial literacy orientation at Sripat Singh College represented a significant opportunity for female students to develop crucial financial skills. As the college celebrated its 75 years of excellence, this initiative reaffirmed its dedication to student growth and societal contribution. Students were encouraged to join the program enthusiastically and take full advantage of the knowledge offered during this important event.
